My family and I have lived in South Perth for over a decade, during which I've taken a leading role in volunteering, advocacy and grassroots initiatives. From school fundraising to founding community groups, my approach has always been inclusive, transparent and collaborative.

These experiences have taught me the importance of listening to community voices and working together to create meaningful, lasting change.

The people, places and history that shape our community's character are strengths we must cherish and protect. As your Councillor, I will safeguard our green open spaces, preserve our heritage for future generations and ensure our community's needs guide every decision. I will prioritise safe suburbs, responsible budgeting, efficient services and long-term planning.

Above all, I will put the community first by delivering thoughtful representation, honest communication and sensible decision-making that reflects the values we share.
