Message from your Council >

Welcome to this the last edition of the Peninsula for 2016. From my perspective it has been another year that has simply flown by with its joys and challenges.

VISION 2027

In November we are embarking on a major review of our Strategic Community Plan. We invite you to have your say about our City's future and help us shape our planning for the next 10 years. I urge you all to take part and complete the VISION 2027 survey by visiting the City's Your Say South Perth online engagement portal or by collecting a hardcopy of the survey from selected City venues.

Connect South

The City has been successful in securing $2.5 million in Federal funding for the revitalisation of the Mends Street precinct and surrounding area. The $7.5 million major project known as Connect South is about creating a positive environment, both economically and socially to support the growth of the South Perth Peninsula and in particular Mends Street. It will see the construction of a piazza on the foreshore near Mends Street jetty as well as upgrades to the streetscape of Mends Street itself. I sincerely thank Steve Irons MP Federal Member for Swan who was instrumental in supporting and advocating for the City to receive this funding from the National Stronger Regions Fund.

Christmas Season

Christmas is a time of giving and receiving. Coming together and celebrating the Christmas holiday period can be a special time for many, yet a difficult time for those experiencing hard times. I encourage you to consider donating a gift to the City's annual food and gift drive for local organisation Southcare. We can all make a difference to someone else's life through giving to another person. To find out how you can contribute turn to page 9. On behalf of all the Councillors and City staff I wish you a safe and very happy holiday season, and a prosperous 2017. ■

VISION 2027

WHAT CAN YOU SEE?

Strategic Community Plan Major Review

In November you're invited to have your say about our City's future.

The City of South Perth is embarking on a major review of its 10-year Strategic Community Plan and is seeking community input. This is your chance to have your say about the City's future, and contribute to shaping the City's priorities for the next 10 years.

Local residents, ratepayers, businesses, families, youth, seniors, community and special interest groups, schools and universities, visitors and volunteers are all invited to participate in Vision 2027 by completing an online or hardcopy survey and sharing their vision for the City's future.

"This is a really important opportunity to have your say about the big picture for the City of South Perth and be part of shaping our future planning," Mayor Sue Doherty said. "When you cast your mind forward and picture the City in 2027, what can you see?"

From 7 November to 9 December 2016 members of the community can complete the Vision 2027 survey by visiting the City's Your Say South Perth online engagement portal or by picking up a hardcopy of the survey from selected City venues. Information and responses collected will help to reshape the City's vision and priorities with the final outcome of this significant review being the 2017-2027 Strategic Community Plan. The plan will have a strong emphasis on the community's aspirations, priorities and vision for the City's future.

"This process involves extensive community engagement to guide and inform the development of the City, its strategies, and projects over the next 10 years," Mayor Sue Doherty said.

"I strongly encourage all members of our community to get involved and complete the survey. The Strategic Community Plan is created by the community, for the community and we need your involvement, it's key to the success of the project."

"The survey will be quick and easy to complete. People with particular interest in the environment or economic and social issues can choose to respond to the section of the survey that is of the most importance to them."

"There will be a variety of engagement opportunities to ensure that everyone can have their say and participate at a time, in a way and place that suits them whether it be online, via hardcopy surveys, face-to-face workshops or through focus groups."

To have your say, complete the Vision 2027 survey by visiting the City's Your Say South Perth engagement portal or pick up a copy of the survey from select City venues; Civic Centre, Operations Centre, South Perth Library, Manning Library, Manning Men's Shed, South Perth Senior Citizens Centre, Manning Senior Citizens Centre, George Burnett Leisure Centre and Old Mill.

PROJECTS & PLACES >

Canning Highway #ShapeOurPlace

STAGE 2

Kensington and South Perth Character Study

As part of the Canning Highway #ShapeOurPlace project, the City has engaged consultants to undertake a detailed assessment of the character of Kensington and South Perth either side of Canning Highway between Berwick Street and Douglas Avenue. The study area is expected to experience demand for medium density development in the future, due to its proximity to the Perth CBD and transport networks. Through responsible and properly managed planning, this development can add to the existing amenity of the area by redeveloping ageing buildings.

The Character Study identifies elements of the existing built form that contribute positively to the character of the study area and surrounding suburbs. The study will help the City and the community to:

- Understand the history and pattern of development of the study area that has influenced the existing built form
- Analyse the existing streetscapes and built form to identify any commonalities or unique attributes
- Identify character elements that contribute positively to the character of the area.

The draft Character Study report was available for community comment between 10 October and 4 November 2016 and a community open day was held on 22 October 2016.

The Character Study also presents an analysis of medium density development from selected inner city locations. The advantages and disadvantages of these case studies are identified for consideration when preparing planning provisions to manage medium density development in the area in future.

The Character Study will be used to develop planning controls for the City to better protect the existing character of the area and facilitate appropriate medium density development close to the highway in the future. The City will be advertising draft planning provisions in the first half of 2017.

For more information visit the City's Your Say South Perth engagement portal or contact the City on 9474 0777 or email enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au. ■

South Perth Station Precinct Community Engagement and Design Study

The City has engaged planning, urban design and place making consultants Roberts Day to review the 2011 vision for the South Perth Station Precinct, developed in partnership with the WA Planning Commission. Roberts Day will undertake a detailed study into preferred development in the area, and will recommend policy and town planning scheme provisions to achieve the vision.

An essential part of the project is engagement with the community and other stakeholders in a manner that will capture all points of view and reach people who may not have contributed or had their voices heard in the past.

Roberts Day will facilitate an interactive series of workshops, called a Planning Design Forum, to engage stakeholders over five consecutive days of collaborative investigations and urban design activities. The Forum will bring the community and other stakeholders, including Council, together with experts to explore design options and solutions for the ongoing planning and development of the precinct. The outcome from the Forum will be detailed recommendations for the ongoing planning and development of the precinct.

The project is currently in the early stages of planning, with work in progress to finalise the process for engaging with the community and other interested stakeholders. The Planning Design Forum and associated workshops are planned for February and March 2017, and more information will be available in early 2017.

Visit yoursay.southperth.wa.gov.au to register to receive email updates about this project. ■

City secures Federal funding for Connect South

In October 2016 the City successfully secured $2.5 million in Federal funding from the National Stronger Regions Fund (NSRF) towards Connect South, a major project to revitalise Mends Street and surrounding areas.

The $7.5 million major project will enhance and invigorate the Mends Street precinct through construction of a piazza on the foreshore close to the Mends Street jetty as well as through upgrades to the streetscape and amenity of Mends Street itself.

The project has grown from the South Perth Foreshore Strategy and Management Plan which prioritised the Mends Street precinct as the most important area to start redevelopment works.

The City has engaged consultants to undertake an economic assessment of the precinct and develop recommendations that will assist the City in guiding the revitalisation.

Mill Point Ward councillors Ken Manolas and Cheryle Irons join Mayor Sue Doherty, Federal Member for Swan Steve Irons and City of South Perth CEO Geoff Glass

Consultation will be undertaken with Mends Street landowners and businesses to gather information and feedback to use to develop the project.

More information, including project delivery timeframes, will be available soon. ■

Manning Community Hub

Installation of public artwork at Manning Community Hub commenced in September 2016. A series of artworks by artist team Susan Milne and Greg Stonehouse complement the form and colours of the new state-of-the-art building which will open to the public in February 2017. The team's concept design, Imprint uses suspended mesh and LED lighting to create a large sculpture, with the artwork sitting boldly in the entrance to the Hub. A vibrant transparent glass canopy (pictured), also created by Milne and Stonehouse, adds splashes of colour to the exterior of the building.

Manning Community Hub will officially open in February 2017. The new facility will include the relocated Manning Library, a community hall, Manning Child Health Clinic, Moorditj Keila Aboriginal Group, a sporting clubroom to house the Manning Rippers Football Club and an Early Years Centre that will be the home of the Manning Toy Library and a new Manning Early Years Association.

To stay up-to-date with the progress of Manning Community Hub visit the City's website.

Manning Early Years Association

The City is looking for enthusiastic and motivated, local community members to join the new Manning Early Years Association to coordinate playgroups in Manning.

The association will be housed in the early years building as part of the purpose built playgroup facility at the soon to be completed Manning Community Hub.

If you are interested, come along to the first Early Years Association meeting on Saturday 19 November at 10am in the Reception Room at the City of South Perth Civic Centre, cnr Sandgate St & South Tce, South Perth.

Register your interest or for more information contact the City on 9474 0777 or email enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au. ■

Commissioned by the City as part of the Millers Pool foreshore upgrade on the Mill Point peninsula, this permanent sculpture by artist team Jana Wallace Braddock and Shane Mullins is due to be installed in November 2016. The artwork will be located at the newly landscaped path intersection adjacent to the Narrows Bridge. The kinetic sculpture will stand 4.2 metres tall and rotate using solar power, reflecting ephemeral elements of the landscape. Developer contribution to public art

In July 2014, Council endorsed a policy requiring developers of projects with a value of $4 million or greater to contribute at least 1% of the total project cost (excluding land value) towards public art. The contribution can be delivered as public art within the development itself, within the neighbouring precinct, or as a contribution to the City's Public Art Fund. Some of the recently installed artworks acquired through this policy include;

Coral Lace Tree by Leanne Bray 3-5 Barker Ave, Como

The artist looked to the surrounding trees in the area and in particular the patterning of the branches of the Coral tree to create the interwoven design of this sculptural screen. The organic approach offers a contrast to the strong geometric qualities of the building.

The Gatehouse by Alex Fossilo 152B Mill Point Road, South Perth

This playful and thoughtful walk through structure was designed by the artist as a foil to the impressive scale building behind it. Fossilo is an emerging artist, this is his first public art commission.

Pinwheels, Windmills and Weather Vanes by Jennie Nayton 98 Mill Point Road, South Perth

The iconic Old Mill was the inspiration behind this work. Artist Jennie Nayton has created a set of tessellating shapes which create optical illusions of movement and space with the forms of the pinwheels, windmills and weather vanes.

Manning Library storytime 1978

For more than half a century Manning Library has served the community and been a beacon for learning and education.

Officially opened to the public in December 1964 by Sir Walter Murdoch and Mayor Thomas, the site on the corner of Goss Ave in Manning was donated to the City by the State Housing Commission.

The architect designed building cost £18,000 to construct and the facility was initially run by a staff of just five employees. The library has grown and changed significantly throughout its life to suit the needs of the community.

Its relocation to the new multi-million dollar Manning Community Centre, which will also include a community hall, Manning Child Health Clinic, Moorditj Keila Aboriginal Group, a sporting clubroom and an early years' centre, will mark yet another exciting chapter in its evolution. Sustainable, modern and multipurpose spaces will house state-of-the-art facilities and services for the entire community to use.

The Manning Community Centre and Manning Library will be open to the public from February 2017. ■
