Message from your Council >

Welcome to the September Peninsula.

Spring weather has sprung and its time when flowers blossom, and a time of rebirth and renewal. It is one of my favourite seasons, and this year with our share of rain, our gardens, parks and reserves are looking very green. While sporting groups are gearing up for finals in their respective competitions, school holiday time is upon us again and summer sports training is just around the corner.

Farewell to long serving City Officer - Rod Bercov

In August we said farewell to the City's longest serving employee Rob Bercov. In his 47 years at the City of South Perth, Rod has made an enormous and valuable contribution not only through his work as an urban planner but also through his dedication and commitment to his colleagues. Best wishes from everyone at the City to Rod for a healthy, long and happy retirement.

I encourage you all to visit and explore the City's new website. It offers an improved user experience and it's 'responsive' which means you can view it easily on your mobile phones, tablets and devices. We've updated much of the content and we hope you'll find it easier to use and find what you're looking for.

Arts and events

The City's Emerging Artist Award is now open for entries. This unique award is tailored specifically for artists in the early stages of their careers. Again, the event will run in conjunction with our Evolve. development programme art workshops. As a City we are committed to fostering local emerging talent and offering our community opportunities to take part in a host of cultural events throughout the year. We look forward to seeing this year's entries and I invite you all to attend the exhibition which runs from 21 to 29 October. ■

City's new website launched

Have you visited the City's new website?

Take a moment to look around and discover what's new and different. Developed over the past 12 months, the site was launched at the end of August 2016. PROJECTS & PLACES >

Works begin on Millers Pool Project

Part of the City's South Perth Foreshore Strategy and Management Plan, the Millers Pool project aims to improve amenity, access and natural features of the Mill Point foreshore.

Following the completion of foreshore restoration works to replace damaged river walls and the creation of two new beaches and rock headlands, works at Millers Pool will commence in early September 2016 and are due to be completed by the end of the year.

Works will involve amenity improvements including picnic and seating areas and a new path network, planting of native vegetation and trees, implementation of Water Sensitive Urban Design (WSUD) principals to treat storm water run-off prior to entering Millers Pool and the Swan River, carpark and road improvements, new lighting and public art installations.

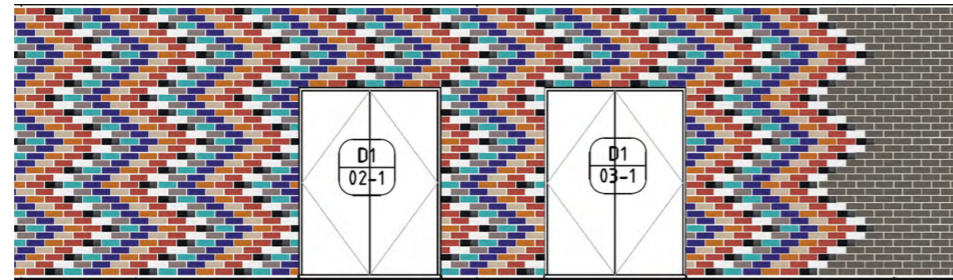

In December 2015, the City called for expressions of interest from artists to create a small scale public artwork that responded to the uniqueness and cultural history of the site.

The successful proposal was a kinetic sculptural design by artist team, Jana Wallace Braddock and Shane Mullins. The 4.2 metre tall artwork will rotate using solar power, reflecting ephemeral elements of the landscape. Prints by Curtin Primary School students of the sapphire plant will be incorporated in concrete base of the artwork.

The artwork will be installed upon completion of the landscaping in November 2016.

For further information visit the City's website or contact the City on 9474 0777 or enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au.

Ernest Johnson Reserve Master Plan – construction set to commence

ARTIST RENDERING - Building 1 main feature wall

Upgrades to Ernest Johnson Reserve are set to commence in October 2016. The City's Ernest Johnson Reserve Master Plan is a $10.5million major project which will accommodate the needs of sports clubs, community groups, the local community and the City, and will produce a contemporary, functional and sustainable multi-purpose facility.

Following stakeholder and community engagement, the development application for the site was approved at a Council meeting held in July 2016. The project went out to tender in August.

Works will be completed in two stages with the first stage including construction of new clubrooms, roadworks and parking facilities. The second stage will include civil works such as demolition of existing buildings, oval works, and construction of sports facilities, playgrounds and social areas.

In accordance with the City's Public Art Policy, a percentage of the total cost of the project has been allocated towards the procurement of public art. Artists were invited to submit expressions of interest in January 2016.

The following artists were successful:

Artwork 1: Two-dimensional work integrated into the building

Leanne Bray's artworks will reflect the City's heritage homes and buildings. The north facing wall of the building will have a coloured gloss brick feature expressed as geometric patterning, akin to some of the Art Deco geometric architectural qualities found in the area.

Artwork 2: Three dimensional sculptural artworks

Lorenna Grant's south facing standalone sculpture "The Goal Keeper" is a 7.5 metre ring that will create a sense of arrival and departure for the community who use the reserve.

Progress updates continue to be provided on the City's website.

For more information please contact the City on 9474 0777 or email enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au.

NOTE: All artwork images are indicative of a concept and are not the finalised design or colour.

Parking Management Plan for the South Perth Station Precinct

The City has engaged Cardno Consulting to develop a Parking Management Plan for the South Perth Station Precinct.

In August 2016, the City invited up to ten local residents who live within or in close proximity of the Precinct, situated on the Mill Point peninsula, to join a working party. Together with local business owners and City staff, the working party will contribute in the development of the Plan by providing feedback at a series of meetings to be held this year.

The working party will involve the wider community in the development of the Plan by seeking their opinions, views and ideas at workshops and via written submissions.

The Precinct's Parking Management Plan will draw upon the key findings of the City-wide Parking Strategy adopted by Council in May 2016.

Manning Community Hub

The Manning Community Hub construction works are progressing well, with internal fit outs of the new Manning Library, Hall and other community facilities to commence in October.

To celebrate the official opening of the new 'heart' of Manning, the City will be holding a community open day in February 2017. More details will be available closer to the event date.

To stay up-to-date with the progress and view a time-lapse video of the construction, visit the Manning Community Hub page of the City's website.

Canning Highway #ShapeOurPlace Stage two - Character Assessment of Kensington and South Perth

The Canning Highway #ShapeOurPlace study has stemmed from a recommendation of the City's Draft Local Housing Strategy 2011. This study identified Canning Highway for medium density and recommended investigation into providing an appropriate transition between the existing high density areas on the highway and the low residential areas in the suburban streets.

Stage one involved community consultation, a comprehensive site analysis and report on the Canning Highway #ShapeOurPlace project. The report was adopted by Council, along with Officer's recommendations in March 2016.

Stage two has now commenced with the appointment of TPG Town Planning, Urban Design and Heritage. This will include a detailed assessment of the character of Kensington and South Perth either side of Canning Highway between Berwick St and Douglas Ave (identified as Places 1 and 2).

The draft Character Study Report will be available for comment in September 2016. The report will be used to develop planning controls for the City to better protect the existing character of the area and facilitate appropriate medium density development close to the highway in the future.

If you have previously submitted feedback relevant to Kensington and South Perth, your comments will be reviewed and considered in this second stage of the project.

To find out more and to comment online, register your details on the City's Your Say South Perth engagement portal at yoursay.southperth.wa.gov.au.

New facilities in Karawara

Have you noticed the exciting changes underway in Karawara? In the central area of Kwel Court Reserve new play equipment is being installed in a larger playground, and paths and facilities are being upgraded, including shade and seating.

A pocket park located south of the Gowrie centre is undergoing a transformation too with new trees, garden beds and paths linking to Walanna Drive footpaths. Works are planned for completion by the end of September 2016.

These upgrades are part of the Karawara Public Open Space Master Plan and Collaborative Action Plan (KMPCAP) which aims to 'strengthen Karawara's public open space and community character'.

The local community has started working towards the goals in the Collaborative Action Plan to develop and deliver community-driven projects.

If you want to volunteer your time or ideas, contact the City on 9474 0777 or enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au.

Call for Volunteers - Goss Avenue Reserve

The City is inviting local residents to join an environmental community group to care for Goss Avenue Reserve in Manning.

The reserve is home to one of the City's largest Banksia woodlands and is a significant natural area, attracting Carnaby and Forest Tail Cockatoos, Honey Eaters, and Wattle birds. A wide variety of flowering plants and fungi including 114 native species have also been recorded in the reserve.

The group is expected to meet three to four times a year at the reserve to carry out hand weeding, planting and other duties alongside the City's Environment team who will provide resources and guidance to the group.

If you are interested in getting involved, contact the City on 9474 0777 or email enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au. ■

Tree planting in the City

This year more than 1,300 trees will be planted on verges and nearly 300 in reserves throughout the City.

Renowned for its green leafy streets, parks and residential areas, the City aims to ensure that tree cover is maintained and enhanced, with around 1,000 trees planted each year.

The trees selected are determined based on factors such as existing streetscape themes, drought tolerance, growth habit, past performance, availability of nursery stock, and other factors. This year the predominant trees that have been planted include; Agonis flexuosa (WA Weeping peppermint tree), Jacaranda mimosifolia (Jacaranda), Eucalyptus leucoxylon macrocarpa rosea (Red flowered yellow gum) and Eucalyptus todtiana (Coastal blackbutt).

Since 2005, the City has increased its net tree cover on land under our care and control by planting over 8,500 trees.

The City is developing an Urban Forest Strategy, scheduled for completion this year, to foster a shared understanding of the change in tree cover in the City over the last 30 years. Once adopted by Council, the Strategy will demonstrate what the City is doing and outline how other institutions and residents can assist us with achieving our goals. In the meantime, let's keep planting trees! ■

COMMUNITY SAFETY

Streets Alive – get to know your neighbours

The City's Streets Alive program supports residents to host gatherings with the neighbours in their street and promote community safety and a sense of belonging.

Each year the City receives applications for Streets Alive gatherings across the suburbs, from afternoon teas, sports days and barbecues to themed celebrations.

Last Halloween, Sam Thompson registered to host a party in her Kensington street. The event was a huge success that helped bring her local community together.

"It has been nice to see some of the older people in the neighbourhood come out and join the fun. Getting to know your neighbours and the people around you is good for the community, good for your family and good for safety."

Why not get a group together and organise a Streets Alive event in your street?

The City can provide Streets Alive hosts with a range of support and event resources including bocce, cricket and badminton sets, and reimbursement for approved purchases up to $100 with a receipt.

For more information visit the City's website or contact 9474 0777 or enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au. ■

It's Your Place: community-driven place making projects

The City is inviting community members to activate local public places and is offering grants of up to $2,000 to help you implement your ideas.

It's Your Place empowers communities to:

- Transform public spaces into vibrant and safe places where people gather
- Experiment with fun and innovative ideas that contribute to a unique local character
- Work together to reinvigorate their street or neighbourhood towards a common goal.

For more information contact the City on 9474 0777 or email enquiries@southperth.wa.gov.au. ■

Community Safety Month

Throughout Community Safety Month the City is encouraging residents to create safer spaces to live, work and play. The City will host protective behaviours workshops for parents and teens, cyber safety for seniors' workshops and Halloween activities.
