

Neil McDougall Lake community planting day

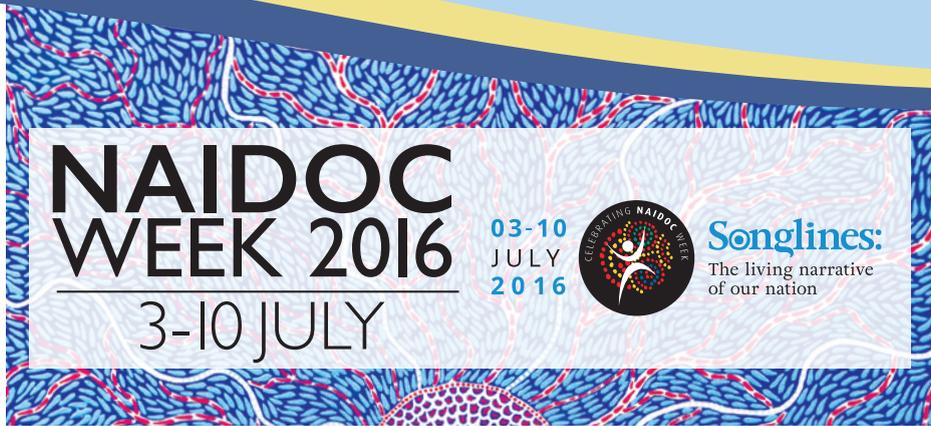

The City joined forces with Millennium Kids last month to plant 330 native wetland plants at Neil McDougall Lake in Como.

The lake is an important habitat for many bird species and is home to a population of long-necked turtles.

Planting around the lake will increase the quality of habitat for the turtles, birds and black swans, as well as improving the water quality and helping control erosion.

The project was funded by National Landcare's 20 Million Tree Program which aims to plant 20 million plants by 2020 through engaging the community and supporting environmental conservation.
